

Plein Air Painting Splendor of Costa Rica

January 5 – 12, 2011

About Costa Rica ... Costa Rica is one of the most peaceful countries in the world. The tremendous natural diversity of plants and animals, as well as culture ... and the friendliness of the Costa Rican people will ensure that you will have an unforgettable experience as our guest in this magnificent country. Join us as we explore Costa Rica through the eyes of artistic expression. We will enjoy painting gardens and tropical plants galore, as well as monkeys and birds while surrounded by a backdrop of mountains or the picturesque Pacific coast.

About this tour ... This tour is all-inclusive with no hidden costs. We pride ourselves on small group sizes and custom itineraries with an expert bilingual naturalist guide that will accompany the tour fully. We have excellent client satisfaction because of our attention to every detail. We will do our utmost to ensure you have a delightful worry free trip. We partner with a Costa Rican travel company that maintains very high standards for sustainable travel. We try to use all sustainable lodges wherever possible – lodges with low carbon footprints.

Artistic tour highlights ... This tour will be enjoyed by both novice and experienced artists seeking the incredible palette of this fantastic country that is one huge garden of lushness and warmth. The central valley of Costa Rica (San Jose) enjoys the fabulous daytime temperatures of mid to high 70s as the average, and nighttime temperatures in the high 50s to low 60s. Enjoy painting while escaping the worst winter weather of January. Join us where sandals and short sleeve shirts are the attire of the day. The sun always shines on the Pacific Coast – and the breezes are soothing. This tour will have a very laid back pace where you may choose to paint all day, or you might walk the gardens or beach in the morning, paint in the afternoon, and bird watch in the late afternoon. Or visit local artisans who love to share and talk about their crafts and lifestyle. There is no set agenda except relaxation, being warm and soaking up the sun, and painting as you desire. This tour will be accompanied by Jerry Thompson, a mid Missouri watercolor artist. Jerry will be available for instruction as desired and to offer advice or commentary whenever requested. Jerry has taught beginning watercolor and sketching ... so any beginners are most welcome to join this tour and take full advantage of Jerry's talents. This tour is not exclusive to artists. Anyone is most welcome.

San Gerardo de Dota

We depart to the area of the San Gerardo de Dota Mountains. This evening will be cool as we will be at a higher elevation deep in the mountains. For those that like to paint hummingbirds – you will have a delightful time enjoying the many species of hummingbirds in this location. Also, higher elevation plants thrive here such as fuschia and verbena. En route we will also visit the highest peak in Costa Rica, Cerro de la Muerte. If a clear day, the vistas from the top of this mountain are exquisite.

Dominical

This morning the Pacific Ocean is calling – which will provide for beautiful, lush tropical scenery and great birding. Toucans will call each morning and visit the trees outside your rooms, and the howler monkeys will provide your wake up call each day. From the lodge, you will have vistas of the ocean in three directions. Sunsets are magnificent. The lodge provides yoga on request and has a resident yoga instructor. The beach is part of the Marino Ballena National Park and very private and accessible from the lodge via a somewhat steep trail. La Cusinga is tucked into the heart of the coastal rainforest and is surrounded by preserves and natural areas.
